Choke FAQ

What is a Briley choke?

The best chokes made on earth! If you are unsure which chokes you need or why you need them view our interchange list.

What is a Briley diffusion choke?

It is a rifled choke designed to spin the wad and disperse the pattern about 5% more quickly. They can be located under most choke categories.

You do not make chokes for my shotgun. Can they be custom made?

Yes. Flush mount chokes are $65 each and extended chokes are $85 each. All we need is a sample of the chokes that came with your firearm.

How do I know what constriction I need?

Please view our choke charts to help determine your needs.

Can I shoot non-toxic shot through replacement chokes?

All Briley Replacement Chokes up to and including "Improved Modified" will handle steel, tungsten, etc. Briley Replacement "TITANIUM" Chokes are for "LEAD ONLY". Briley "THIN WALL" chokes must state "FOR STEEL" on the side of the choke. If not then "LEAD" shot only may be used. Please take a look at our lead to steel conversion chart for conversions.
